Late Fashion Items.

Light-weight fabrics are exhibited in silk and wool in bright contrasting stripes, or in gay floral designs scattered in tiny bouquets on dark grounds, which are to make very pretty, durable, and inexpensive dresses for school children this autumn.

It is said that there are no fewer than twenty distinct shades of the mushroom or "champignon" color, though the shade in any of its varied tones is not so much worn as was expected. It has probably been found unbecoming, as most toilets of these neutral hues are certainly more trying than the more pronounced colors.

There is a very pretty new tint of all very gray-green which can be compared very well to the color of the leaf of the poplar tree. This shade is to be made up of one material alone, or, if some relief is needed, combined with velvet, silk, or plush. As these substances never take the dye quite alike, a mixture of either produces the effect of variety.

Cadmore in fine quality will compare with the very fashionable dress fabrics the coming season. Samples of new Parisian shades just forwarded to importers show exquisite shades of beige, golden bronze, deep moss green, tawny, Quaker gray, Neapolitan blue of a most rich and rare coloring, Pompeian red, and for evening wear a list of pale, lovely tints too numerous to refer to here, and also new delicate hues impossible to describe.

Handsome Macquise coats, medium in length, and made of black velvet, are already shown, which are designed for gold weather over-skirts of muslin, organdie veiling, and the like, and later, over under-dresses and tunics of cashmere, and other seasonable materials. Some of the handiwork of these are embroidered in black on the vest-front, deep collar and sleeves. Others show a supreme garniture of applique work in gold and silk cord, with ornaments to match.

White silk gloves are worn by the million. These favor economy, for, though they may sell quickly, we all know that white silk handkerchiefs and handkerchiefs of good quality wash well. So also do silk gloves, and the inevitable tiny darts at the finger ends show less conspicuously than when gloves are colored. It is not altogether a pretty custom to dye gloves over the elbows, but as dress sleeves are worn so very short, and as it is still thought not the best form to show any part of the arm when not in full dress, this fashion is necessitated. Many ladies add frills of lace to the top of their gloves, which ameliorates the harshness objected to.

Strenuous efforts are being made to reintroduce the fashion of wearing white or cream-colored hose, and in a recent medical journal an eminent physician declares that dyed hose are most prejudicial to health and comfort alike; but the prejudice against colored stockings which died out years ago, cannot be reestablished without much and potent endeavor. Even the fact that comfort cannot be altogether depended upon as a very trustworthy agent in bringing the reform about; otherwise, surely the distress and disagreeableness occasioned by the coloring of white stockings, which many women cannot afford to despise. Strenuous efforts are being made to reintroduce the fashion of wearing white or cream-colored hose, and in a recent medical journal an eminent physician declares that dyed hose are most prejudicial to health and comfort alike; but the prejudice against colored stockings which died out years ago, cannot be reestablished without much and potent endeavor. Even the fact that comfort cannot be altogether depended upon as a very trustworthy agent in bringing the reform about; otherwise, surely the distress and disagreeableness occasioned by the coloring of white stockings, which many women cannot afford to despise.

In proportion to the popularity once enjoyed by our favorite game of croquet, the skill and judgment necessary to it are being rapidly forgotten. People want to be caught playing croquet nowadays, yet no other really good game but has its staunch supporters, nor does any besides seem likely to suffer from future changes of public taste. Croquet, however, has been, of late, an unfavorable contrast, and there is another disadvantage—it is almost impossible to keep white hose in the immaculate state of purity in which alone they are admirable, even when washed and changed twice a day—a luxury calculated to raise the ire or the wages of the laundress considerably. Moreover, white hose admitted in appearance increase the size of the feet, a consideration which many women cannot afford to despise.

Another Warning to Young Ladies.

The following incident took place recently on a Massachusetts railroad not many miles from Boston. Several ladies entered the car at one of the many stopping places and all obtained seats except one. A middle-aged, well-dressed woman, who looked as if she might be a bank President, (not in an undignified sense), arose and politely offered the latter her seat. The lady (P) dropped into it without so much as a thank you. The gentleman was evidently indignant. He stepped up to her, said: "I beg your pardon, pointing at the vacant seat, but I am a bank President, and I am not going to be caught at this game of croquet, which many women cannot afford to despise. Strenuous efforts are being made to reintroduce the fashion of wearing white or cream-colored hose, and in a recent medical journal an eminent physician declares that dyed hose are most prejudicial to health and comfort alike; but the prejudice against colored stockings which died out years ago, cannot be reestablished without much and potent endeavor. Even the fact that comfort cannot be altogether depended upon as a very trustworthy agent in bringing the reform about; otherwise, surely the distress and disagreeableness occasioned by the coloring of white stockings, which many women cannot afford to despise."

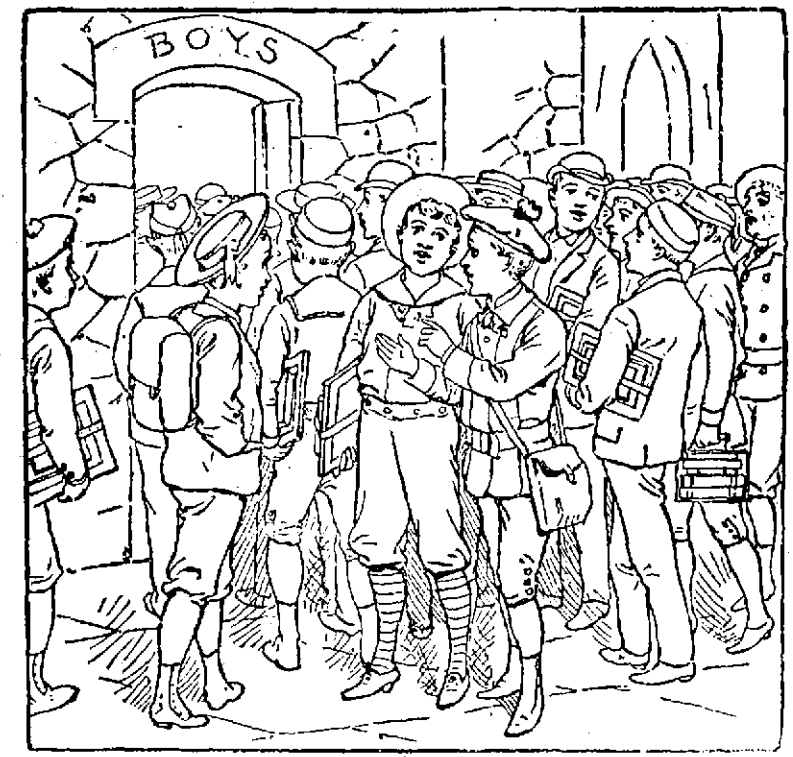

An anecdote, or game, or an animal that has been known to be taken in the neighborhood of the city of Philadelphia.

AN OPEN LETTER

To BUYERS OF READY-MADE CLOTHING!

It is a fact that the papers are teeming with windy, meaningless advertisements, setting forth (in glaring letters) for facts—that which show on their faces ABSOLUTE FALSITY. When unscrupulous dealers advertise to sell something for nothing, they are merely baiting to catch suckers.

The modest and unpretentious WHITE FRONT has studiously avoided all misrepresentation in advertising. And when we say, as we do now, that we have in Stock the MOST DESIRABLE and BEST STYLES, the most PERFECT FITTING GARMENTS, and withal the BEST MADE and Best Trimmed CLOTHING, for MEN, YOUTHS, BOYS AND CHILDREN, we are not exaggerating.

Lovers of artistic character in Dress cannot, in justice to themselves, purchase until they have visited and examined our superb selections.

Our Medium and Low Priced Goods are out and made with the same care as our Best Goods. In fact, when we place one of our Suits on an old man, a middle-aged man, a young man, boy or child, it adds a certain dignity to the wearer that is so perceptible as to cause the looker on to involuntarily exclaim, How Elegant! How Perfect, etc.

A word as to price and we are done. Rivals concede the superiority of our selections, but tell you the prices are very high. DO NOT BE DECEIVED! We guarantee

Our Prices as Low as the Lowest and will give you FIRST-CLASS GOODS, instead of SECONDS.

We do not expect to please everybody, but we do think that we can convince every reasonable customer that our goods have MERIT, CHARACTER, FIT, STYLE—and last but not least, they are Cheaper at our Price than "TRASH" at ANY PRICE.

Extending a cordial invitation to all lovers of honest goods to visit the WHITE FRONT, we can assure you courteous and gentlemanly treatment and would be pleased to serve you. Open for business every day and night EXCEPT SUNDAY. No business transactions on Sunday.

A BALTIMORE BLAZE.

Much Property Destroyed—Many Narrow Escapes—Frightened to Death.

Telegraph Operators Remember Their Friends—Presentation to Miss Lizzie Annandale.

A Boston Investigation—Rapid Transit Between New York and Boston—Other News.

A Baltimore Blaze.

Baltimore, Md., September 12.—A fire broke out yesterday afternoon in the furniture factory of D. Wilson & Co., situated on the corner of Cross and Chestnut streets, and in a short time the entire building was consumed in flames.

Many of the 150 men employed in the building had narrow escapes. The fire spread to the houses on the opposite side of Cross street, the walls of the factory building at the same time collapsed. The firemen then directed their attention to the Cross street dwellings, and after hard work succeeded in checking the flames, but not until the roofs, windows doors and ceilings of several houses had been burned.

In the meantime the dwellings on Chestnut and Mulberry streets had been burned, and the entire fire department was on the ground doing all in their power to stay the flames which were being fanned by a stiff breeze from the southwest.

The street in the neighborhood was blocked with household effects of every description that had hastily been removed from the burning buildings. Twelve houses on Mulberry street and three on Chestnut, making a total of twenty-two dwellings, all occupied by poor people, the fire was controlled.

The furniture factory is a total wreck and much of the contents were also burned, including a new engine and boiler valued at $120,000, insurance, $50,000. The losses on surrounding property will aggregate $200,000, which is fully insured.

Captain Hook of No. 7 engine was badly burned, and a fireman of the same company was overcome by the heat. Frederick Baehler, an old man living on Cross street, was sick when the fire broke out. The other inmates of the house became panic-stricken and fled leaving him alone. When they returned he was dead, no having probably died from fright.

The Greatful Telegraph Operators Remember Their Friends.

Louisville, Ky., September 12.—During the performance of "Semtamide" by the Emma Abbott Company at Masonic Temple last night, Miss Lizzie Annandale was presented with a magnificent pyramid of flowers nearly four feet in height, and of unique design. It bore a card inscribed as follows:

"To Miss Lizzie Annandale in remembrance of her kindness to the Baltimore telegraph operators during the strike of 1883, from the local fraternity of telegraphers, the 'L. O. T. G.' of Baltimore."

There was loud applause when the beautiful and fragrant present was sent forward. Miss Annandale said that she did not know how to thank the donors, that she was very much delighted, and that her services would always be given freely to help the telegraphic fraternity in any just cause they might undertake.

It is remembered that Miss Annandale arranged a concert at Baltimore for the telegraphers during the strike, and when the telegraphers failed to appear, she appeared in the kind-hearted little lady's place five times to fill out the programme. Miss Annandale otherwise endeavored herself to the telegraphers, and they will certainly not forget her wherever she may go.

A Boston Investigation.

Boston, Mass., September 12.—The Board of Directors of the Board of Trade and Transportation held a special meeting yesterday morning to receive the report of the committee appointed several weeks ago to investigate the labor troubles. The report is quite lengthy. The committee is utterly unable to suggest a remedy or to arrange a settlement. They advise a spirit of fair dealing and toleration of opinion and a disposition to check the differences of opinion by a friendly and amicable policy of protection to all.

For the present they feel that nothing further can be done by the committee. The report was unanimously adopted.

Rapid Transit Between "Gotham" and "The Hub."

Boston, Mass., September 12.—A meeting of New York and New England capitalists and railroad men interested in rapid transit between New York and Boston, was held at the Mercantile Hotel this afternoon. It was shown by several witnesses that the project of a rapid transit line that will carry passengers over the 100 miles between Gotham and the Hub in about three and one-half hours, is not only feasible, but that it is a project of the future.

It is claimed that such a road can be constructed for less than twenty millions, and when once built, it is thought that the patronage will be extensive enough to pay the interest on double that amount of money.

A Pension Thief.

Pittsburgh, Pa., September 12.—A pension thief named Baker, with six distinct aliases, who was arrested at Wilkesbarre, by a Government detective, is awaiting trial here for receiving stolen goods and for receiving stolen money.

Yellow Fever at Havana.

Washington, D. C., September 12.—Inspector Burgess reported to the Marine Hospital Service that during the month of August 102 deaths occurred at Havana from yellow fever.

Wanted Here.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., September 12.—Judge James E. Mottled yesterday from the effects of an operation performed some time ago. He was formerly Judge of the Supreme Court and was President of the Merchants' Bank of this city for thirty-two years. He was noted as a court of appeals lawyer.

In the Bourbon torchlight procession the other night one budding Democrat from the rural districts added to the enthusiasm of the occasion by shouting "Hurrah for Frank James," as he spurred his horse to catch up with the crowd, while an ex-rebel soldier howled himself hoarse in crying "Down with the aristocrats." It was a promising gang.

REQUISCAT IN PACE.

The Mortal Remains of Janarius A. McGahan, the Renowned Journalist.

Interred at Last, After a Wandering and Eventful Life, Almost in Sight of His Native Log Cabin.

Some of the Notables Who Were Present at the Obsequies—Home at Last.

CLEVELAND, O., September 12.—A special to the Press from New Lexington, O., states that the final interment of Janarius McGahan took place today in the village cemetery, almost in sight of the little log cabin where he was born on the 12th of July, 1844. A vast concourse of people were present, including many distinguished visitors from abroad. Each of the press associations of the State were represented by large delegations, besides large delegations of correspondents and journalists from all parts of the country.

There were brief religious services at St. Rose Church, Bishop Waterman, of Columbus Diocese, officiating. At eleven o'clock the procession started and moved to the cemetery, headed by Hon. H. C. Greiner, City Marshal, and aides, followed by military organizations, G. A. R. Post, the Governor and State officers, members of the press and citizens. The remains were enclosed in a metallic casket covered with black velvet and surmounted by a large floral arrangement.

"J. A. McGahan, died June 9, 1884, aged 34 years."

Addresses were made by Senator John O. White, Judge Wright, George H. Jones, Col. J. L. Johnson and others. W. A. Taylor, of Jackson, read the poem of the day.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 12.—The Democratic meeting yesterday to ratify the nomination of Cleveland and Hendricks was one of the largest ever witnessed in the District of Columbia. Fully 8,000 persons were in the hall, nearly all of whom carried torches. Fireworks were used to illuminate the scene of the procession, which was thirty minutes in passing a given point. Campaign clubs of the District of Columbia and several organizations from Virginia participated in the procession. The most prominent speakers were Bradley T. Johnson, of Maryland; Hon. Jesse D. Murphy, of Iowa; Senator Jones, of California, and Hon. J. P. Morgan, of Virginia. A number of letters of regret were read from prominent politicians who were unable to be present. The meeting was held in the City Hall, which was brilliantly illuminated with electric lights. Portraits of Cleveland and Hendricks were placed in the center of the decorations, surrounded by American, Irish, German, and other national colors.

On the main stand Hon. J. E. Norris, President of the Democratic Association, presided. There were two overflow meetings. Among the Vice-Presidents were W. W. Corcoran, R. D. Sylvester and W. D. sciatic rheumatism. Have been so bad that I could not walk, and what pain I suffered! I heard of Atchafalpa through a LOCAL POLITICS.

Club Meetings—Speaking To-Night—Flag Presentation.

To-night Col. Clark E. Carr will speak at the tabernacle, and the Republican club will report at headquarters at seven o'clock for escort duty. Before the speaking commences the Escort club will be presented with an elegant banner. Every member of the club is expected to be in line.

The colored club met last night and elected Luckin Kindred permanent president, in place of Henson Singleton, who cannot attend regularly because of business engagements. This club will turn out to-night at the Carr meeting.

Last night over fifty members of the Escort club were put through a very profitable drill by Capt. Strange. It lasted about an hour. The club are well up in the evolutions and will make a fine appearance in their new uniforms, with red, white and blue lanterns.

The young republicans of West Prairie street are taking a lively interest in the present campaign. They firmly believe in American institutions and protection, and though very young in years, they are ready to do what they can to boom the Republican ticket. The organization now numbers 10 members, two of whom are little girls. They have secured torches and a drum and have lively drills each evening. Their captain is Master Reeves Sorrage, who proposes to wipe out democracy forever with his solid phalanx.

The club is yet in its infancy. It will soon have members by the score.

At Fairview school house in the Seitz grove Saturday afternoon the Republicans will erect a campaign pole. It will be a tall and shapely pole. Captain Gra-son and E. P. Vail will be the speakers.

The Republicans of Mt. Zion will have a pole raising Saturday night; music by the G. A. R. and Macon bands and speeches by Captain Grason, E. P. Vail and J. V. Beckman. Decatur voters are invited to attend.

Tax fare on the special train Saturday night for the Republican pole raising and rally at Mt. Zion will be 25 cents for the round trip. Captain Penrod's company will go. Also many others. All invited.

Rally at Argenta.

An enthusiastic Republican rally was held in the town hall at Argenta last night, at which Mr. Sprague presided.
There were 150 people in the audience, and the speaker was Mr. I. R. Mills, of Decatur, who made a solid speech and was frequently applauded. After the address, 52 voters signed the roll for the Blaine and Logan club, and committees on uniforms were appointed. The Argenta Republicans will have a club of over 100 members to visit Decatur when John A. Logan speaks here.

The county board to-day selected the following to serve as grand jurors at the December term of the circuit court:

To-night the Herman Weber benefit will be given at the opera house. The Turner classes will be there in full force and a fine programme will be observed.
Don't fail to attend.

PERSONAL MENTION.

E. S. McDonald left for Chicago last night.

Paul Selby, editor of the State Journal and postmaster at Springfield, was in the city to-day, a guest at the New Deming.

J. B. Winnebrenner is off the police force. He was on an errand during the camp meeting and until yesterday.

Constable McWhinney made a big free-to-day, selling a lot of household goods at auction.

Miss Lillie Vorhies entertained a large company of friends last evening at her home. It was the celebration of her 14th birthday anniversary.

Thos. Cochran, the "Fairbanks" sewing machine man, was in today, and he says the factory will be a "go" at the capital.

I. O. Eysman returned last night from Genoa, Neb., where he spent several days shootng chickens. He reports Blaine and Logan voters as thick as hops out West.

The wedding of Miss Minnie Sears and Mr. James B. King, chief clerk in the office of superintendent of telegraph, is announced to take place next Wednesday evening.

Rev. H. S. Jordan, a Presbyterian minister at Shelbyville, has received a call to the pastorate of a church at Chicago with a salary of $1500 a year, and a promise of a yearly increase.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kinney, J. W. Race and Mrs. Being arrived home this morning from a tour of Europe, and paid the Republican a call. He returns chock full of interesting stories and incidents of his tour, which he will probably relate in a series of lectures at the People's stories of the disastrous condition of the working classes in Europe brought about by the slave labor policy. He brought his family with him from New York, where they remained during his absence abroad.

$50.00 Reward—$50.00.

I will pay $50 Reward for information that will lead to the detection and arrest of the scamp that cut the Electric light wire last night. That sort of vandalism must be stopped in this community.

W. W. FORTER, Sheriff.

The Macon county Republican Central Committee will pay $25, additional, for the discovery of the perpetrator of the outrage. M. F. KANAM, Chairman.

Schroll—Albert.
John Schroll, a prosperous young farmer, son of Ex-Alderman Schroll, of Decatur, was wedded to Miss Ella Albert, daughter of Henry Albert, Esq., last evening, at Warrensburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. S. Newcomer, at the Warrensburg Bethel. At promptly eight o'clock the bride and groom entered the church and marched up the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march with Mrs. Jessie Laforgue as organist. At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride's father, where an elegant repast was served in party style. Many elegant and useful presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Schroll will settle down to housekeeping at once.

The night of the democratic demonstration a well-known business man of this city, wearing a Blaine hat, got on the Indianaapolis train at the depot to go east.
The car he entered was filled with boozey democrats bound for their homes at Tuscola and other points. As soon as the Blaine man appeared in the car, the democrats arose as one man and cried aloud:
"Put him out; put him out!" The Blaine man held his ground, though he was crowded and hustled about roughly. In order to escape personal violence, the Blaine man had to go through the train until he could find a corner where he could ride undisturbed. This is but an example of the "very orderly" conduct of the democratic gang of Tuesday night.

The party of Springfield toughs who got a log of beer and drank it in the Review alley and the plug hat fellows from Springfield who paraded the park making insulting remarks about ladies, also tried to get into the Blaine man's car and say "d-d Decatur Blaine man" who dared to chimp. The alleged models of propriety were really the worst lot of visitors in the city.

The First Ripe Corn.

The first thoroughly ripe corn of the year was brought to the Warrensburg office to-day by Mr. E. T. Willoughby, whose splendid farm is two miles southwest of Macon. It is of the Early Hunt variety, which was planted on May 8th and made hard roasting ears within 90 days. It is the earliest sort of corn known, and the samples of seven ears before us are ripened completely. The husks have been dry for many days.

president, John R. Miller; secretary, J. C.
Hostetter; treasurer, Milton Johnson; direcevery day of the fair except on Tuesday.

There will be a free for all 240 trot for $100 in gold on Friday afternoon.

Grand superintendent, J. M. Kainey; ring marshal, W. W. Foster, superintendent of ring, J. R. Miller.

To-day the Citizens' Street Railway Company petitioned the Board of Supervisors, asking permission to lay a street car track from the city limits west on Main street to the south entrance of the fair grounds enclosure. The petition was referred to the committee on roads and bridges, who will report this afternoon.

A Brilliant Party.

A large company of young and elderly people attended the fashionable social party given by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Quinlan at their elegant new home last night.
It was given in honor of their son, Will Quinlan, who will depart this week for Massachusetts to re-enter college. Dancing to the music of the New Opera Orchestra was the chief enjoyment of the occasion, and during the evening a choice collation was served. The party was one of the happiest of any season and was quite an event in social circles. The magnificent residence was brilliantly illuminated, as was also the lawn.

By direction of Mayor Chambers Decatur streets will be left in darkness until the council provides for raising funds to pay obligations. The funds are nearly exhausted and there are but a few hundred dollars in the treasury. The gas supply has been shut off temporarily, resulting in a saving of $70 a month, and it has been necessary to dispense with the services of two extra policemen and part of the city force. The council will probably pass the $20,000 public improvement bond ordinance Monday night, when money will be procured without any difficulty.

The Turner Entertainment.

gramme observed at the exhibition at the

COL. CARR is one of the most eminent speakers in Illinois, and is every where received with enthusiasm.

Before the speech of Col. Carr a ban-

The Blaine and Logan Glen Club will be present. Ladies are especially invited.
By order of EXECUTIVE COM.

These authorities have proof to the effect that a party of men pleading poverty are going about the city begging for old clothing and then shipping the garments out of the city in bundles. Better clothe the poor at home first. Save your cast-off garments and deliver them to Overseer Newell, or let him know where they can be had.

A very large company of relatives and invited friends of the contracting parties witnessed the marriage at noon Thursday (the 11th) of Miss EMMA O. LOOMIS and ized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Loomis, four miles northwest of Decatur. There were perhaps 75 people present, and so large was the company the wedding took place on the decorated piazza of the comfortable home, the guests viewing it from the spacious and well shaded lawn, where chairs were placed in a semi-circle for the convenience. At the appointed hour the couple appeared and Rev. D. P. Bunn, of this city, spoke the impressive ceremony which made William and Emma husband and wife. The bride, who is a beautiful and well-educated young lady and a was becomingly attired in an elegant blue silk dress, adorned with natural flowers.

The groom wore conventional black.
